43. The juvenile court or magistrate to which or whom a report is made under section 42, may call upon such parent or guardian to produce the child before it or him in order to show cause why the said child should not, during the pendency of the proceedings, be removed from his care; and may on suitable sureties being offered for the safety of such child and for his being brought before it or him, permit the child to remain in the actual charge or control of his parent or guardian, or may immediately order his removal, if necessary, by issuing a search warrant for the immediate production of the child to a place of safety, if it appears to the court or magistrate that the child is likely to be removed from the jurisdiction of the court or to be concealed.

Court or Magistrate may direct production of child by parent or guardian.

Examination of police officer or person producing or reporting.

44. (1) The court before which a child is brought under section 40 or 41 shall examine the police officer or the authorised person who brought the child or made the report and record the substance of such examination and may send the child to a remand home for further inquiries.

(2) On the date fixed for the production of the child or for the inquiry or on any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the court shall hear and record all evidence which may be adduced and consider any cause which may be shown why an order committing the child to a certified school or to the care of a fit person should not be passed and make any further inquiry it thinks fit.

Committal of child to certified school or to fit person.

45. (1) If the court is satisfied on the inquiry that such person is a child as is described within the provisions of section 40 and that it is expedient so to deal with him the court may order him to be committed to a certified school or to the care of a fit person named by the court until such child attains the age of eighteen years, or in exceptional cases for a shorter period, the reasons for such shorter period to be stated in writing.

(2) The court which makes an order committing a child to the care of a relative or other fit person may, when making such order, require such relative or other person to execute a bond, with or without sureties, as the court may require, to be responsible for the good behaviour and well being of the child and for the observance of such other conditions as the court may impose for securing that the child may lead an honest, virtuous and industrious life.

(3) The court which makes an order committing a child to the care of a relative or other fit person under this section may in addition order that he be placed under supervision for any period not exceeding three years :

Provided that when the court thinks fit, it may allow such child to remain in the custody of a parent or guardian with a direction that he be placed under supervision, on such parent or guardian executing a bond with or without sureties in the prescribed form, and the court may from time to time during the supervision period adjourn the case and compel the production of the child in the court to satisfy itself that the conditions of the said bond are being carried out:

Provided further that if it appears to the court on receiving a report from a probation officer or otherwise, that there has been a breach of the supervision order, it may, after making such inquiries as it deems fit, order the child in respect of whom the supervision order has been made, to be detained in a certified school or committed to the care of a fit person.

46. (1) In the case of a child whose ordinary place of residence lies outside the jurisdiction of the court before which it is brought the court may, if satisfied after due inquiry that it is expedient so to do, send the child on his own bond back to a relative or a fit person who is fit and willing to receive him at his native place and exercise proper care and control of him.

Sending of child having place of residence outside jurisdiction.

(2) Any breach of the said bond shall render the child liable to be committed to a certified school or to the care of another fit person.

47. (1) Where the parent or guardian of a child complains to the juvenile court, or if a juvenile court is not established for the area to a court empowered under section 8 to exercise the powers of a juvenile court, that he is not able to control his child, the court, if satisfied on inquiry that the case appears to be one of which cognisance should be taken, shall remand the child for observation or treatment and any further inquiries necessary.

Uncontrollable children.

(2) If the court is satisfied that it is expedient so to deal with the child under this Act, it may order the child to be committed to a certified school, or a recognised institution.

(3) The court may also, if satisfied that home conditions are satisfactory and what is needed is supervision, commit the child to the care of the parent, guardian or relative or any other proper person under a bond with or without sureties, and place him under supervision for a period not exceeding three years.

PART VI

Special offences in respect of children.

48. (1) Whoever having the actual charge of, or control over a child wilfully assaults, ill-treats, neglects, abandons, or exposes him or causes or procures him to be assaulted, ill-treated, neglected, abandoned or exposed or negligently fails to provide adequate food, clothes, or medical aid or lodging for a child in a manner likely to cause such child unnecessary mental and physical suffering shall, on conviction, be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding two years or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees or with both:

Offence under this part cognizable.

63. All offences under this part other than an offence under section 61 shall be cognizable.

PART VII

Youthful offenders.

Bail of children arrested.

64. Where a boy or girl apparently under the age of sixteen years is arrested on a charge of a non-bailable offence and cannot be brought forthwith before a court, competent * * * * to try the case, the officer in charge of the police station to which such boy or girl is brought, may release the child on bail, if sufficient security is forthcoming, but shall not do so where the release of the child shall bring him into association with any reputed criminal or expose him to moral danger or where his release would defeat the ends of justice.

65. (1) Where a boy or a girl apparently under the age of sixteen years having been arrested is not released under section 64 or otherwise, the officer in charge of the police station shall cause him or her to be detained in the prescribed manner until he or she can be brought before a juvenile court or a court empowered under section 8 to exercise the powers of a juvenile court.

Custody of children not enlarged on bail.

(2) A court, on remanding for trial a child who is not released on bail, shall order him to be detained in the prescribed manner.

66. Immediately after the arrest of a child, it shall be the duty of the police officer, or any other person affecting the arrest to inform the Probation Officer and officer in charge of the remand home, if any; of such arrest in order to enable the said Probation Officer and officer in charge of the remand home to proceed forthwith in obtaining information regarding his antecedents and family history and other material circumstances likely to assist the court in making its final order.

Submission of information to Probation Officer and officer in charge of remand home by Police after arrest.

67. Where the child is arrested, the officer in charge of the police station to which he is brought shall cause the parent or guardian of the child, if he can be found, to be summoned at the court before which the child will appear.

Attendance of parent or guardian.

68. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any law, no youthful offender shall be sentenced to death or transportation or imprisonment.

Sentences that may not be passed on child.

(2) When a child is found to have committed an offence of so serious a nature that the court is of opinion that no punishment, which under the provisions of this Act it is authorised to inflict, is sufficient or when the court is satisfied that the child is of so unruly or of so depraved a character that he cannot be committed to a certified school or detained in a place of safety and that none of the other methods in which the case may be legally dealt with is suitable, the court shall order the offender to be kept in safe custody in such place or manner as it thinks fit and shall report the case for the orders of the Provincial Government.

Expressions
"conviction" & "sentence" not to be used in relation to children.

69. Save as provided in this Act, the words "conviction" and "sentence" shall cease to be used in relation to children dealt with under this Act and any reference in any enactment to a person convicted, a conviction or a sentence shall in the case of a child be construed as a reference to a person found guilty of an offence, a finding of guilty or an order made upon such a finding, as the case may be.

No proceedings under Chapter VIII
of the Code of Criminal Procedure against child.

70. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Code no proceedings shall be instituted and no order shall be passed against a child under Chapter VIII of the said Code.

Commitment of child to certified school or recognised institution.

71. Where a child is found to have committed an offence, the court, if satisfied on inquiry that it is expedient so to deal with the child, may order him to be committed to a certified school or recognised institution for such period of detention as will not, subject to the provisions of section 5, extend beyond the time when the child will attain the age of eighteen years or in exceptional cases for a shorter period, the reasons for such shorter period to be recorded in writing.

Other orders of the Court.

72. A court may, if it shall think fit, instead of directing any youthful offender to be detained in a certified school or recognised institution under section 71—

(i) order him to be discharged after due admonition;

(ii) without passing any final order, direct that he be released on probation of good conduct and committed to the care of his parent or guardian or other adult relative or other fit person on such parent, guardian, relative or person executing a bond, with or without sureties, as the court may require, to be responsible for the good behaviour and well being of the youthful offender for any period not exceeding three years and for the observance of such other conditions as the court may impose for securing that the youthful offender may lead an honest virtuous and industrious life;

(iii) if the offence committed by the youthful offender is punishable with fine and the youthful offender himself is over the age of fourteen years, order the offender to pay a fine.

Repatriation.

73. (1) In the case of a youthful offender whose ordinary place of residence lies outside the jurisdiction of the court before which he is brought, if the court is satisfied after due inquiry that it is expedient so to do, it may send the youthful offender on his own bond back to a relative or a fit person, who is fit and willing to receive him at his native place and exercise proper care and control of him, notwithstanding the fact that the youthful offender has to be sent to a place outside ~~the Province of Sind~~ [the Province of Sind].

(2) Any breach of the said bond shall render the youthful offender, if found at any time at any place within ~~the Province of Sind~~ [the Province of Sind], liable to be committed to a certified school or to the care of another fit person.

74. (1) Where the offence committed is punishable with fine and if the youthful offender is under fourteen years of age, the court shall order that the fine be paid by the parent or guardian of the child, unless the court is satisfied that the parent or guardian cannot be found or that he has not conduced to the commission of the offence by neglecting to exercise due care of the child. Power to order parent to pay fine, etc. instead of child.

(2) An order under this section may be made against a parent or guardian who, having been required to attend, has failed to do so, but save as aforesaid, no such order shall be made without giving the parent or guardian an opportunity of being heard.

(3) Where a parent or guardian is directed to pay a fine under this section, the amount may be recovered in accordance with the provisions of the Code.

75. The court shall wherever possible order that the youthful offender released under section 72 be placed under supervision: Release of youthful offenders under supervision.

Provided that if it appears to the court on receiving a report from the probation officer or otherwise, that the youthful offender has not been of good behaviour during the period of supervision, it may proceed to pass such final order as it would have done had it not placed the youthful offender on probation of good conduct.

76. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing provisions the court may adjourn the case of a youthful offender sine die, and may re-open it at that stage of the proceedings at which it was left when adjourned, on additional grounds or material being placed before the court. Postponement sine die.

77. In passing an order in respect of a youthful offender under this Part, it shall be lawful to the court to exercise its powers under any one or more of the foregoing provisions at the same time, if it is necessary and expedient to do so in the ¹[interest] of the offender. Court empowered to exercise powers under one or more of preceding provisions.

PART VIII.

Measures for detention, etc., of children and youthful offenders.

Detention of child in place of safety.

78. (1) Any police officer, ¹[not] below the rank of Assistant Sub-Inspector, or a police officer or a person authorised in this behalf in accordance with rules made by the Provincial Government may take to a place of safety any child in respect of whom there is reason to believe an offence has been, or is likely to be committed.

(2) A child so taken to a place of safety and also any child who seeks refuge in a place of safety may be detained until he can be brought before the court:

Provided that such detention shall not in the absence of a special order of the court exceed a period of twenty-four hours exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of detention to the court.

(3) The court may thereupon make such order as hereinafter provided.

Courts powers for care and detention of
child.

79. (1) Where it appears to the court that there is reason to believe that an offence as stated in section 78 has been committed or is likely to be committed in respect of any child who is brought before it, and that it is expedient in the ²[interest] of the child that action should be taken under this Act, the court may make such order as circumstances may admit and require for the care and detention of the child until a reasonable time has elapsed for the institution of proceedings against the person for having committed the offence in respect of the child or for the purpose of taking such other lawful action as may be necessary.

(2) The order of detention made under sub-section (1) shall remain in force until such time as the proceedings instituted against any person for an offence referred to in sub-section (1) terminate in either conviction, discharge or acquittal:

Provided that if the proceedings terminates in conviction of the person, the order of detention shall remain in force for a further period of one month.

(3) An order passed under this section shall be given effect to, notwithstanding that any person claims the custody of the child.

Victimised child to be sent to Juvenile Court or District
Magistrate.

80. Any court by which a person is convicted of having committed an offence in respect of a child, or before which a person is brought for trial for any such offence or by which a person is bound over to keep the peace towards a child, shall direct that the child against whom the offence has been committed, or in relation to the alleged offence against whom the trial is in progress, or in relation to keeping the peace towards whom the [person] concerned has been bound over, shall be produced before a juvenile court with a view to that court making such interim and final orders as may be proper, provided that in an area where no juvenile court has been established, the court shall submit its proceedings and forward the child to the District Magistrate or Sub-Divisional Magistrate to whom it is subordinate.

81. The court before which a child is produced in accordance with section 79 may order the child in the prescribed manner—

Order for committal of victimised children.

(a) to be committed to a certified school or recognised institution until such child attains the age of eighteen years or in exceptional cases for a shorter period, the reasons for such shorter period to be recorded in writing, or

(b) to be committed to the care of a relative or other fit person, on such bond, with or without surety as the court may require, such relative or fit person being willing and capable of exercising proper care, control and protection of the child and of observing such other conditions, including, where necessary, supervision for any period not exceeding three years, as the court may impose in the interest of the child :

Provided that, if the child has a parent or guardian, fit and capable, in the opinion of the court of exercising proper care, control and protection, the court may allow the child to remain in his custody or may commit the child to his care on bond, with or without surety, in a prescribed form and for the observance of such conditions as the court may impose in the interest of the child.

82. The Court which makes an order committing child to the care of his parent guardian or other fit person under the foregoing provisions may in addition order that he be placed under supervision.

Supervision of victimised children.

83. If it appears to the court on receiving a report from the Probation Officer or otherwise, that there has been a breach of the supervision order relating to the child in respect of whom the supervision order had been passed, it may after making such inquiries as it deems fit, order the child to be detained in a certified school or committed to the care of a fit person.

Breach of supervision.

Repatriation of victimised
child.

84. (1) In the case of a child, the ordinary place of whose residence is outside the jurisdiction of the court before which he is produced, if the court is satisfied after due inquiry that it is expedient so to deal with the child, the court may order the child to be sent on his own bond back to a relative or a fit person who is fit and willing to receive him at his native place and exercise proper care and control of him notwithstanding the fact that the place of residence of such child may be at any place outside ^{the Province of Sind} ~~the Province of Sind~~;

sections 81
to 84 to be in force even if conviction of alleged victimisation is set aside.

86. Where an order is made under sections 81 to 84 and the conviction order binding the person to keep the peace is set aside or the person is acquitted, the order made under the said sections shall remain in force but it shall be open to the person so acquitted, or discharged from his bond to keep the peace to apply for a reconsideration of the said order in consequence of the altered circumstances.

Warrant to search for child.

87. (1) If it appears to a juvenile court or any other court duly empowered under this Act from information on oath or solemn affirmation laid by any person who, in its opinion, is acting in the ¹[interest] of the child, that there is reasonable cause to suspect that an offence has been or is being committed or unless immediate steps be taken will be committed in respect of the child, the court may issue a warrant authorising any police officer named therein to search for such child and if it is found that he has been or is being wilfully ill-treated or neglected in manner aforesaid or that any offence has been or is being committed in respect of the child to take him to and detain him in a place of safety until he can be brought before it and the court before whom the child is brought may in the first instance remand him in the prescribed manner to a place of safety.

(2) The court issuing a warrant under this section may in its ²[discretion] by the same warrant direct that any person accused of any offence in respect of the child be apprehended and brought before it, or direct that if such person executes a bond with sufficient sureties for his attendance before the magistrate at a specified time and thereafter until otherwise directed by the Magistrate, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall take such security and shall release such person from custody.

under circumstances in which it appears that no special facilities for the bringing up of the child in his religion exist, the authorities of such certified school or recognised institution or such fit person shall not bring the child up in any religion other than his own.

(3) Where it is brought to the notice of the Chief Inspector of Certified Schools that a breach of sub-section (2) has been committed, it shall be open to the Chief Inspector to transfer the child from the custody of such institution or person.

92. (1) Subject to the prescribed conditions, the Chief Inspector of Certified Schools may, at any time after the expiration of six months from the commencement of the detention of a child in a certified school or recognised institution, on the recommendation of the visitors or managers of the certified school or recognised institution, or an application by a parent, ^{Placing out on licence.} [relation] or guardian, supported by local inquiries made through the Probation and After-Care Association, or otherwise, release such child from the school or institution and grant him a written licence in the prescribed form and on the prescribed condition permitting him to live under the supervision and authority of such responsible person or society willing to take charge of the child and approved by the Chief Inspector.

(2) Any licence granted under sub-section (1) shall be in force until revoked or forfeited ²[for] the breach of any of the conditions on which it was granted.

(3) The Chief Inspector may at any time by order in writing revoke any licence and order the child to return to the certified school or institution and shall do so at the desire of the person or society with whom or under whose supervision he is licensed to live. If the child refuses or fails to return to the school or institution, the Chief Inspector may, if necessary, call for the papers and deal with the case himself making such order as he thinks fit in the interest of the child or he may by order in writing direct the officer in charge of the police station having jurisdiction to secure the child and cause him to be placed before the court or taken to the school or institution.

(4) When a licence has been revoked or forfeited and the child or youthful offender, refusing or failing to return to the school or institution, has been secured and placed before the court under the provisions of sub-section (3) the court may, if satisfied by information on oath or solemn affirmation that there is reasonable ground for believing that his parent or guardian could produce
